This is a letter of thanks. This is a letter inviting you to celebrate what we do and what we love.

As we reach our 80th anniversary, it is a time to reflect, to plan, and to grow - a time to count our blessings and to visit our values, to honestly look at the future of our children and at the legacy we want to place in their minds and hearts.

Conchita thinks out of the box. We are not obsessed with numbers, test results or what everyone else is doing. We are passionate about education, quality of life, and guiding our youth in discovering their talents and their uniqueness. We believe in respecting their childhood, but at the same time, allowing them to face challenges, to problem-solve, to face disappointment and to learn from their mistakes. We want life-long learners, productive members of society, intelligent, compassionate, peaceful people that with their knowledge and wisdom will help build a better world. In turn, that is what happiness is all about.

When you come to drop off your child, when you walk our hallways, when you sit in our little “central park,” when you watch a game, when you watch a performance, when you listen to your child read or play a musical instrument – take a moment to enjoy and not take for granted the legacy of CEA.
